Foreword

As with all high school annuals our purpose has been to produce a pictorial record of life at LeRoy High School. We believe that our high school is something special. It is neither so large that students become numbers nor so small that it lacks the excitement of educational facilities. We have tried to show the unique qualities of LHS.

There have been many changes effected in this year's book including: sixteen added pages, an increased number of color photos, and a new format designed to increase the size and number of photographs. We hope our efforts prove successful to you, the students of LeRoy High School.

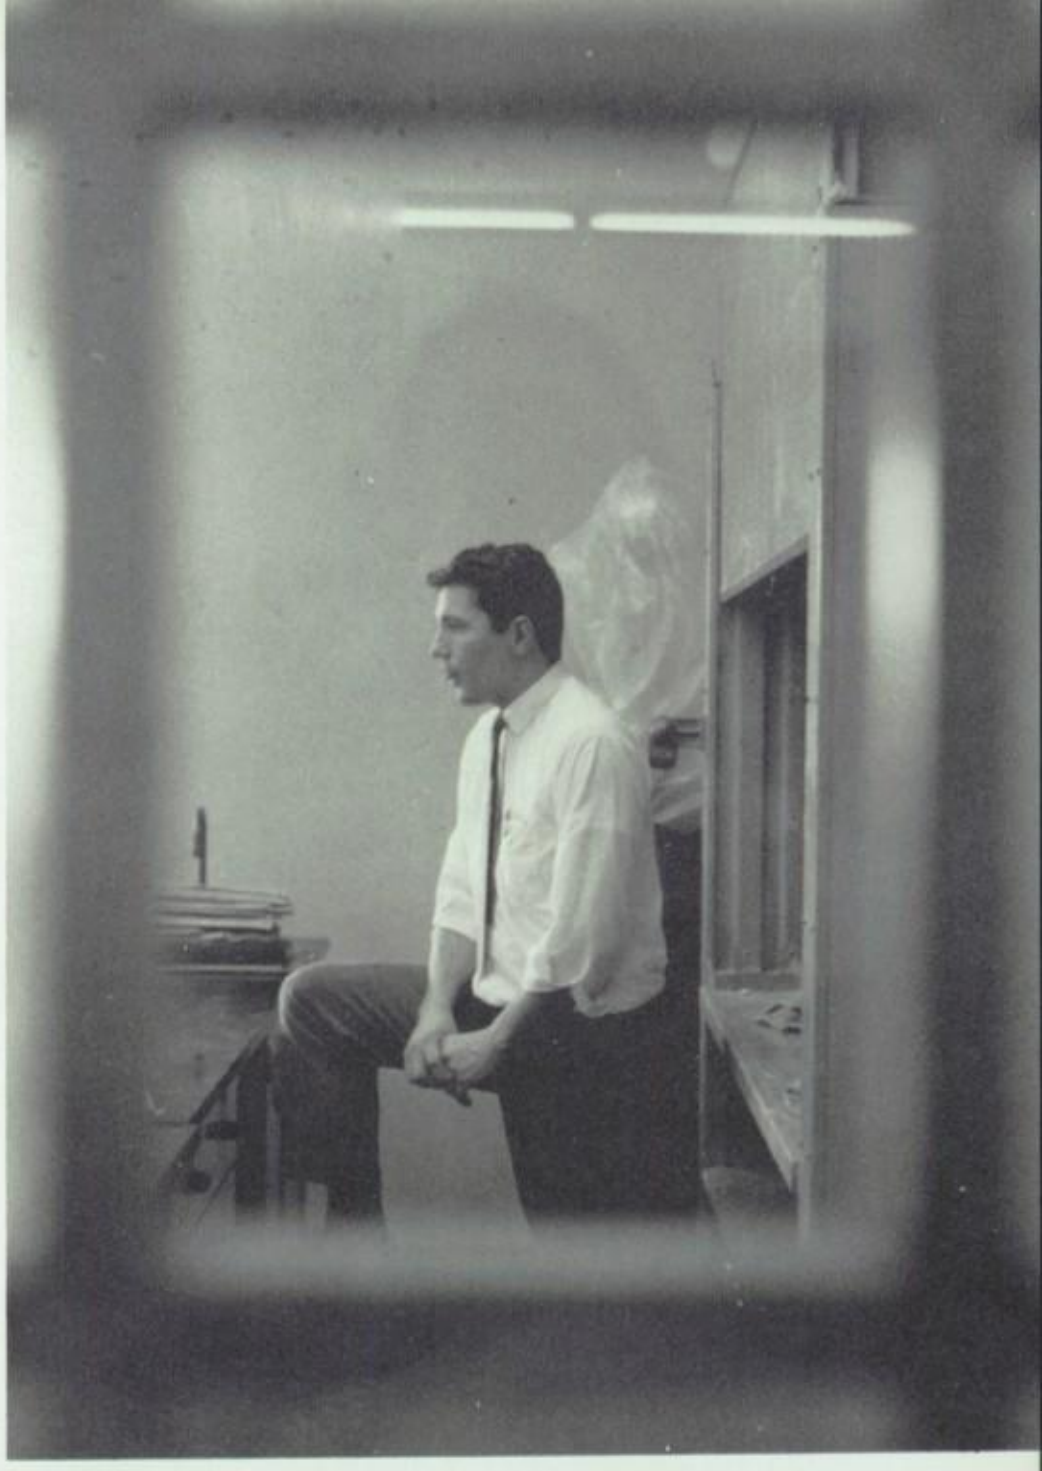
Theme

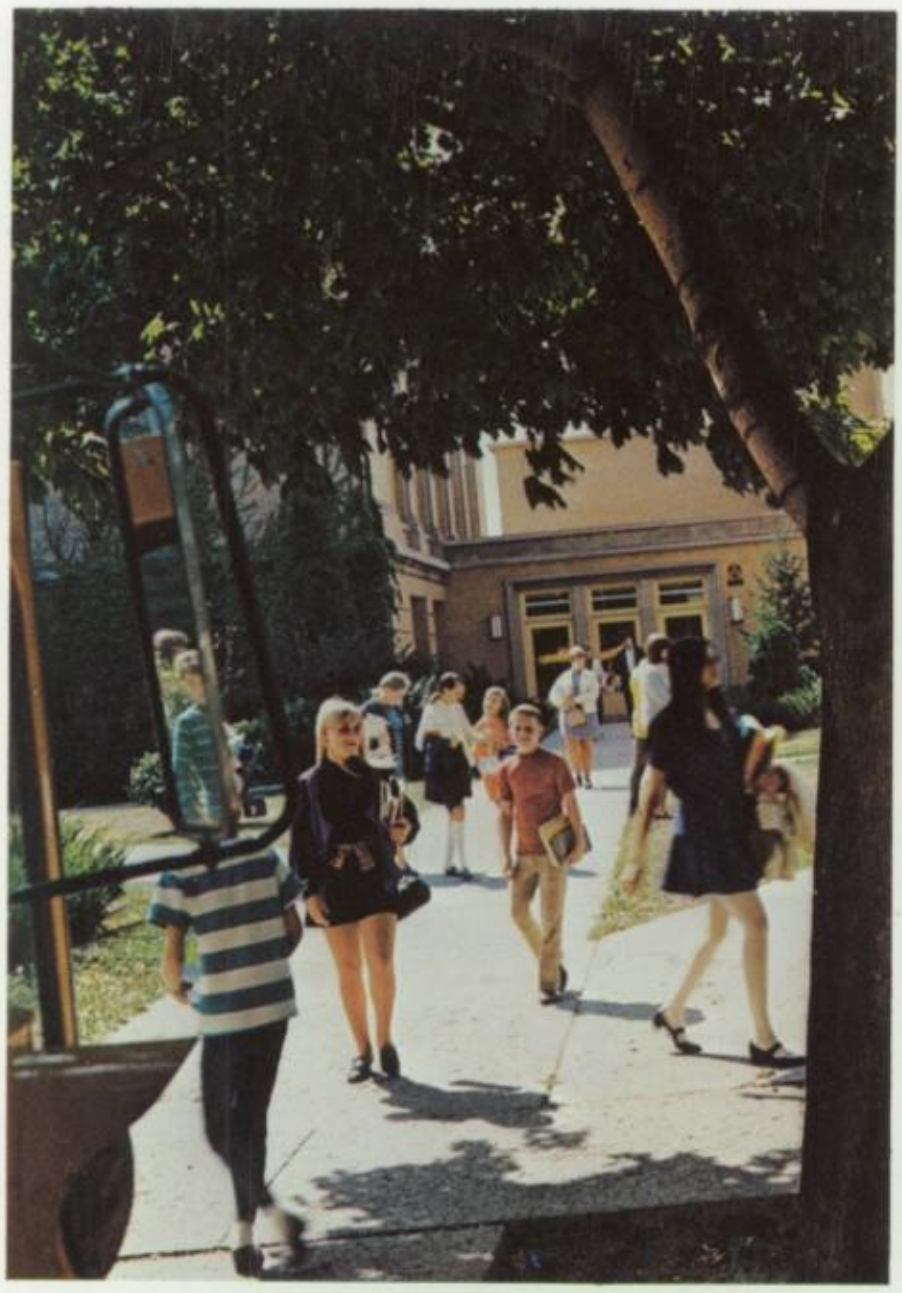
"Reflections and Impressions" was chosen by the editors as the theme of the 1970 O-AT-KAN, for we believe it best expresses the purpose of our book. Through this theme we believe we have expressed the personality, the flavor, and the essence of our school.

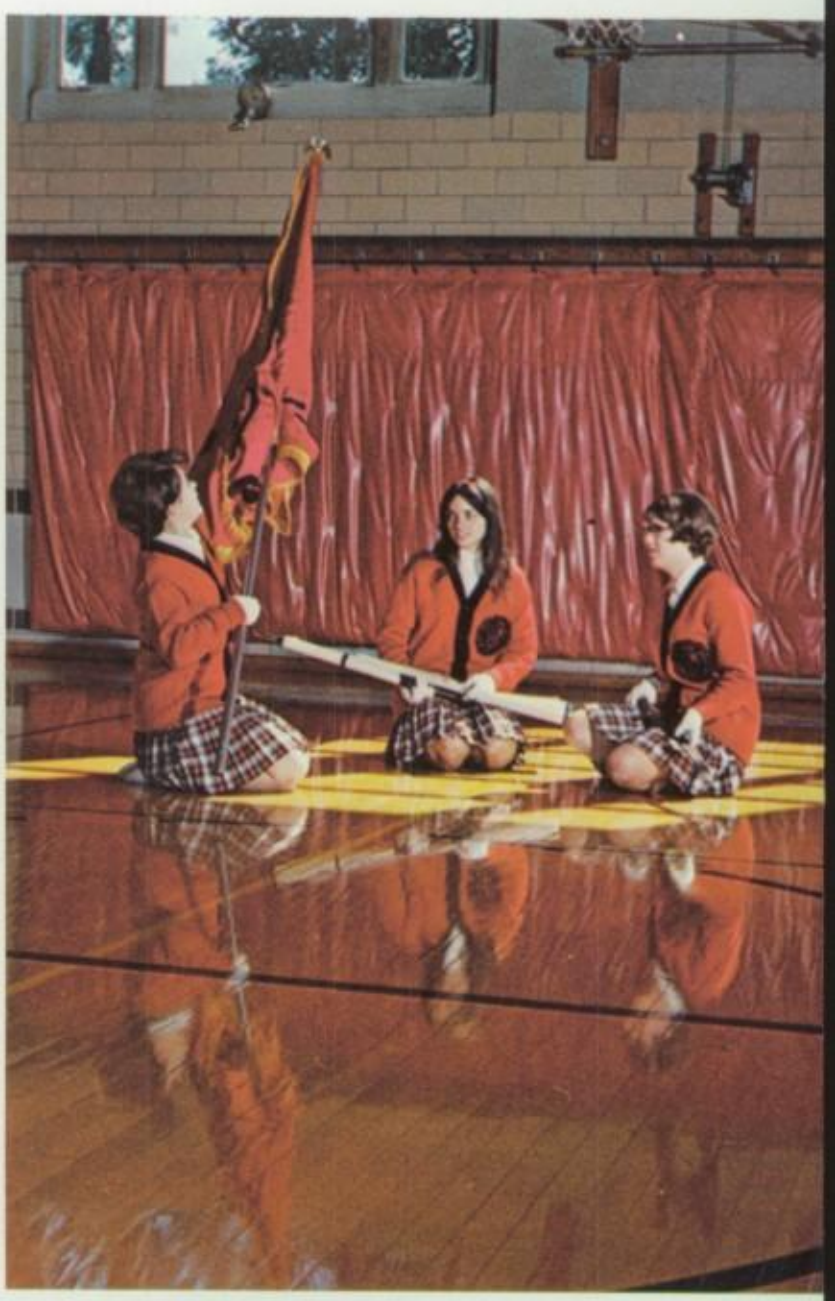
This annual reflects the school year just past. It recalls the spirit of the school: classrooms and exams, clubs and projects, athletic teams and pep rallies. More important, it is a reflection of those who make up the school: the administration and teachers who are our instructors, advisors, and friends and the students who are learning from their books, from their teachers, from each other, and from life.

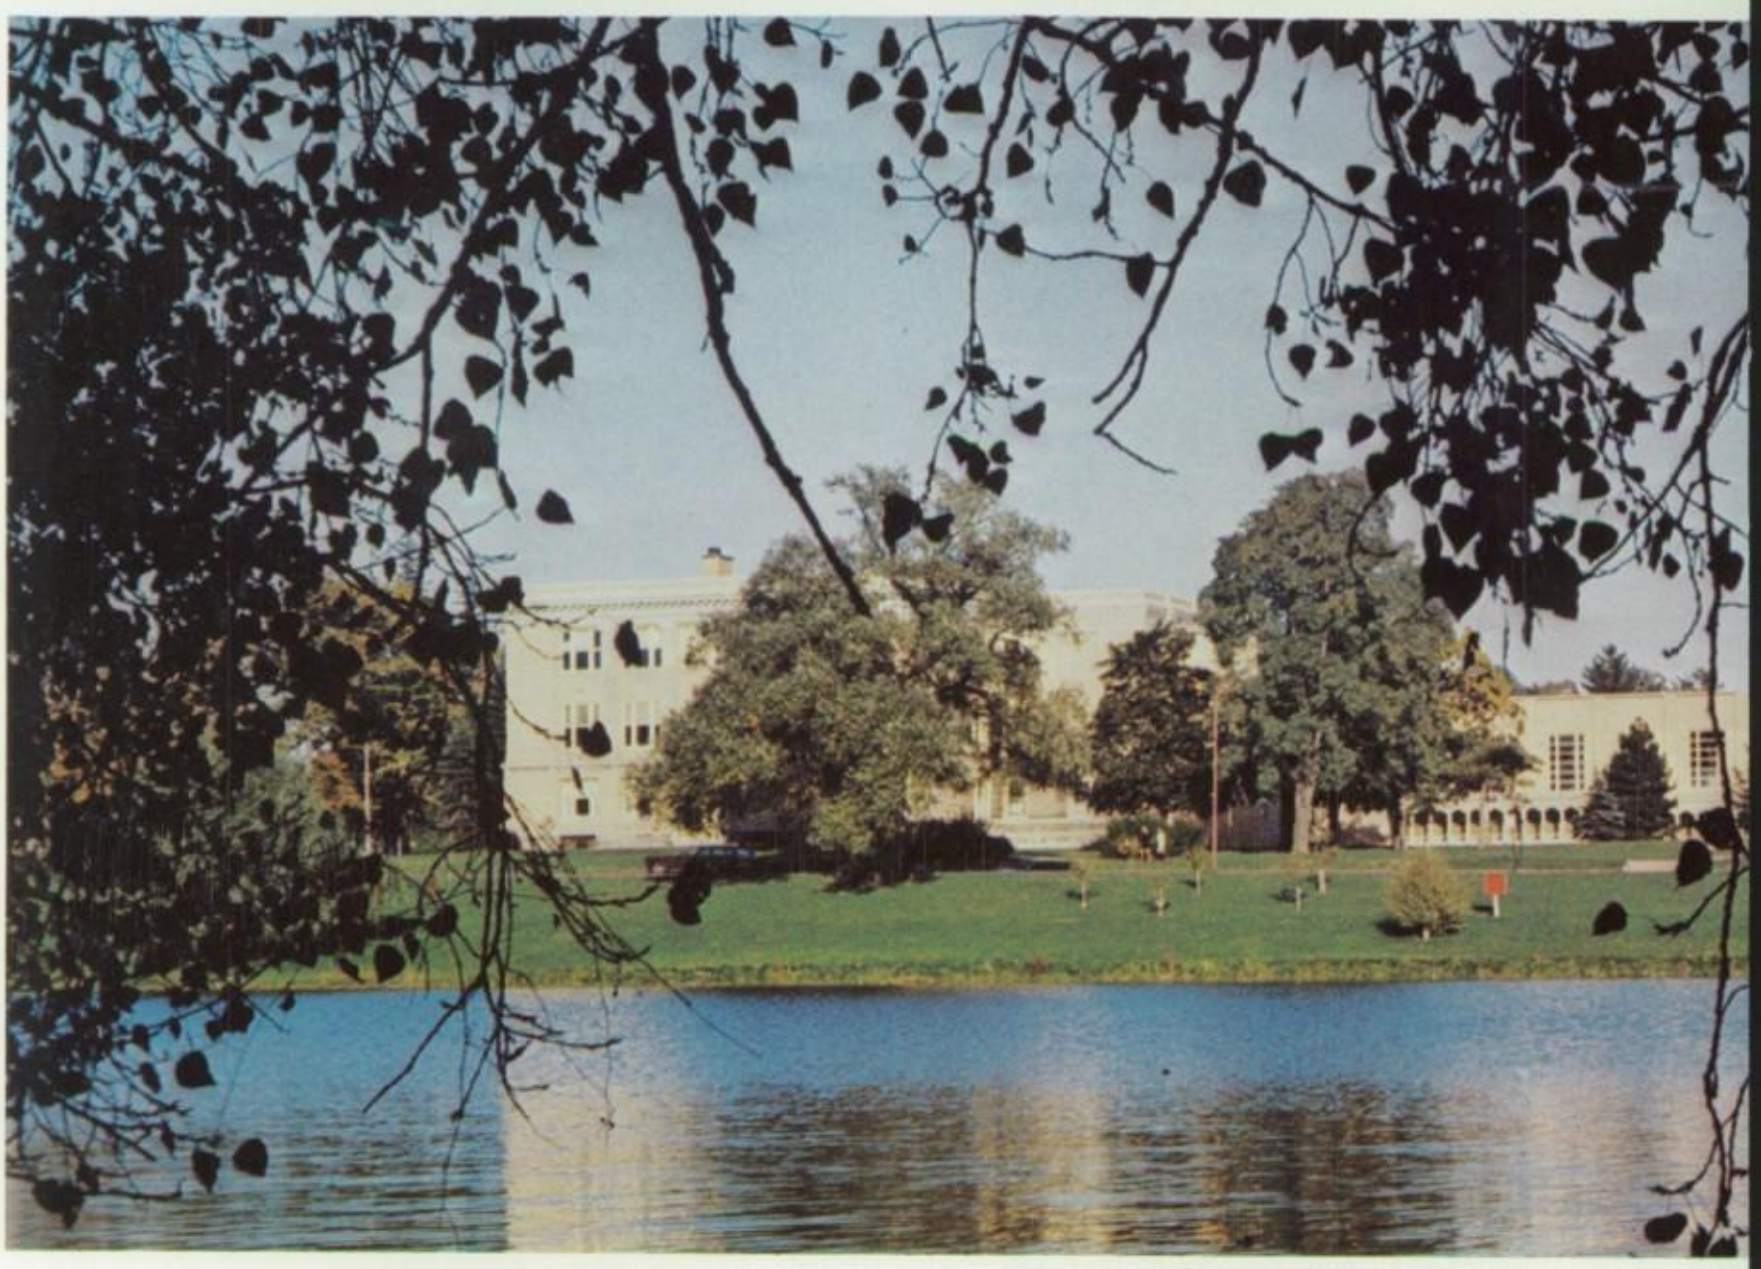
The 1970 O-AT-KAN is a melange of impressions, for each picture limns and each line of copy describes a particular event or emotion. The impressions, experiences, and memories of the editors color this view of our school life, but we hope that it can trigger in each one who reads it his own unique impression of school life, his own reflections as to the highs and lows, the tensions and their reliefs, the victories and the disappointments.

We believe that through this theme the 1970 O-AT-KAN effectively portrays the school, the events of the year, and the people, all of which have made their indelible impressions on each of us.

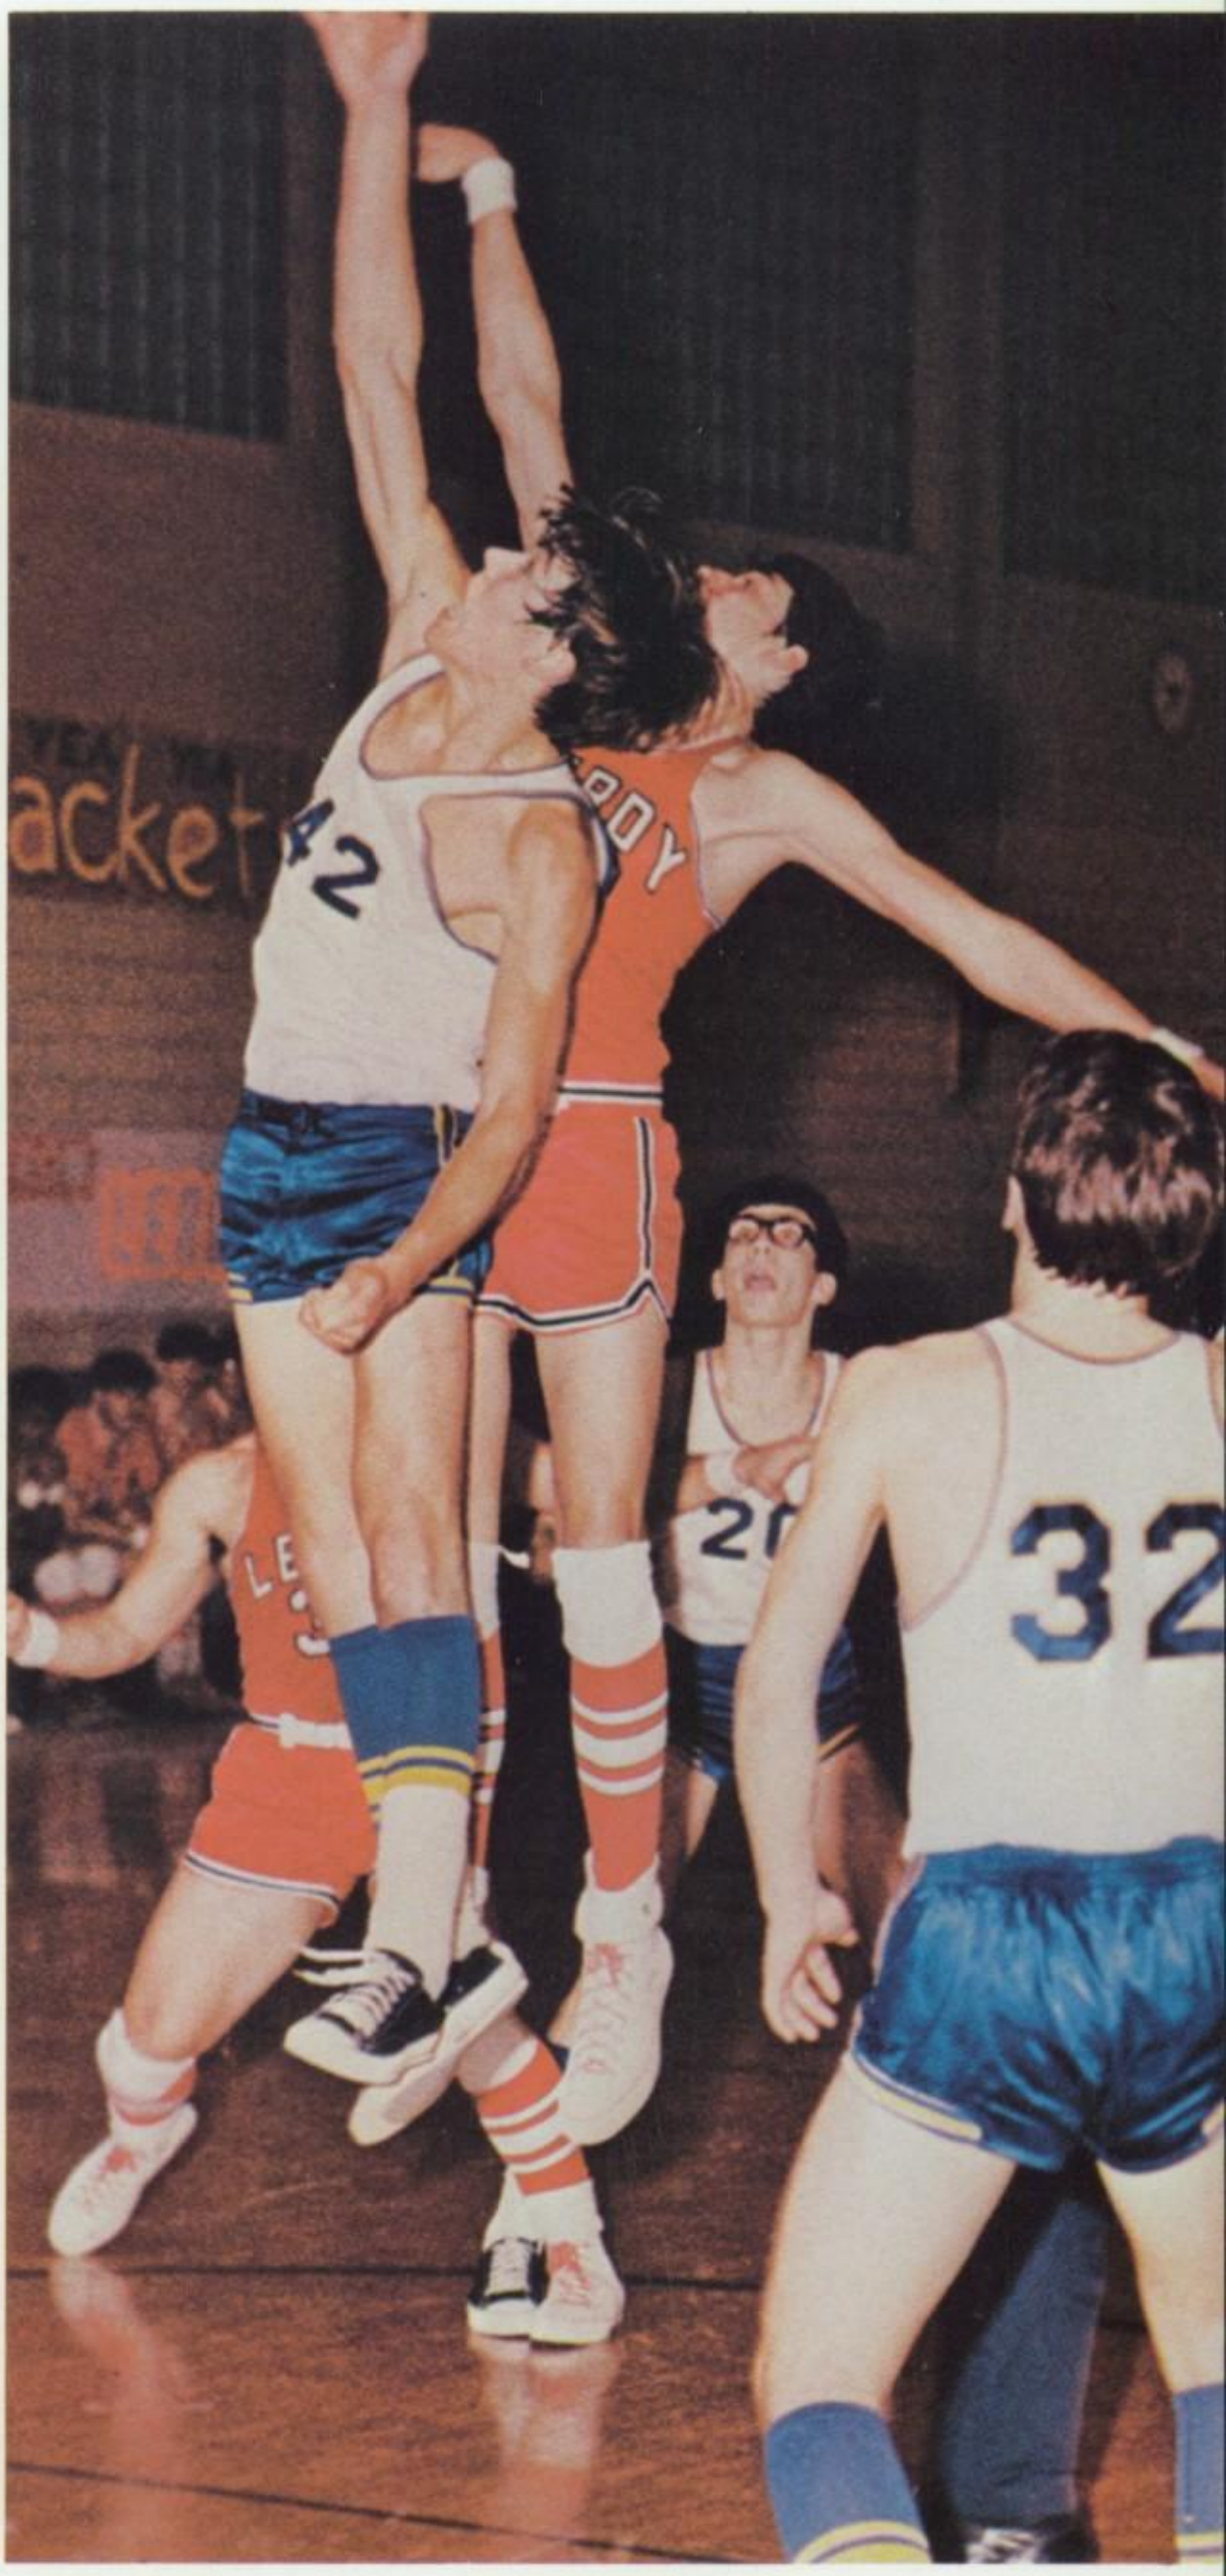


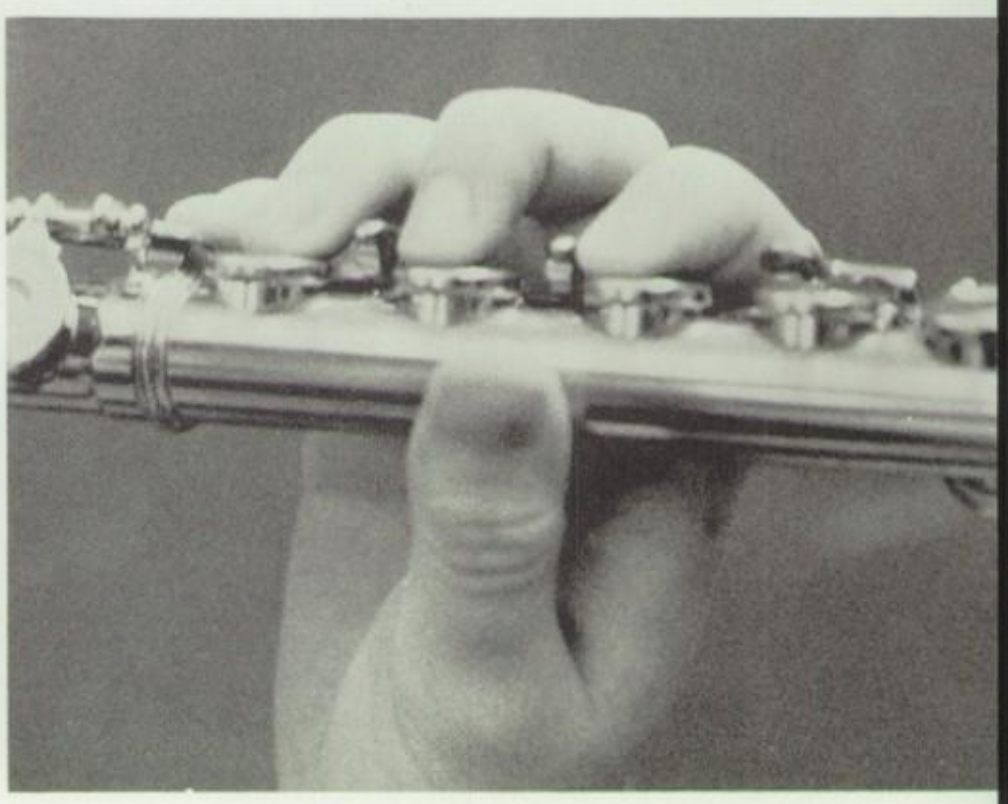


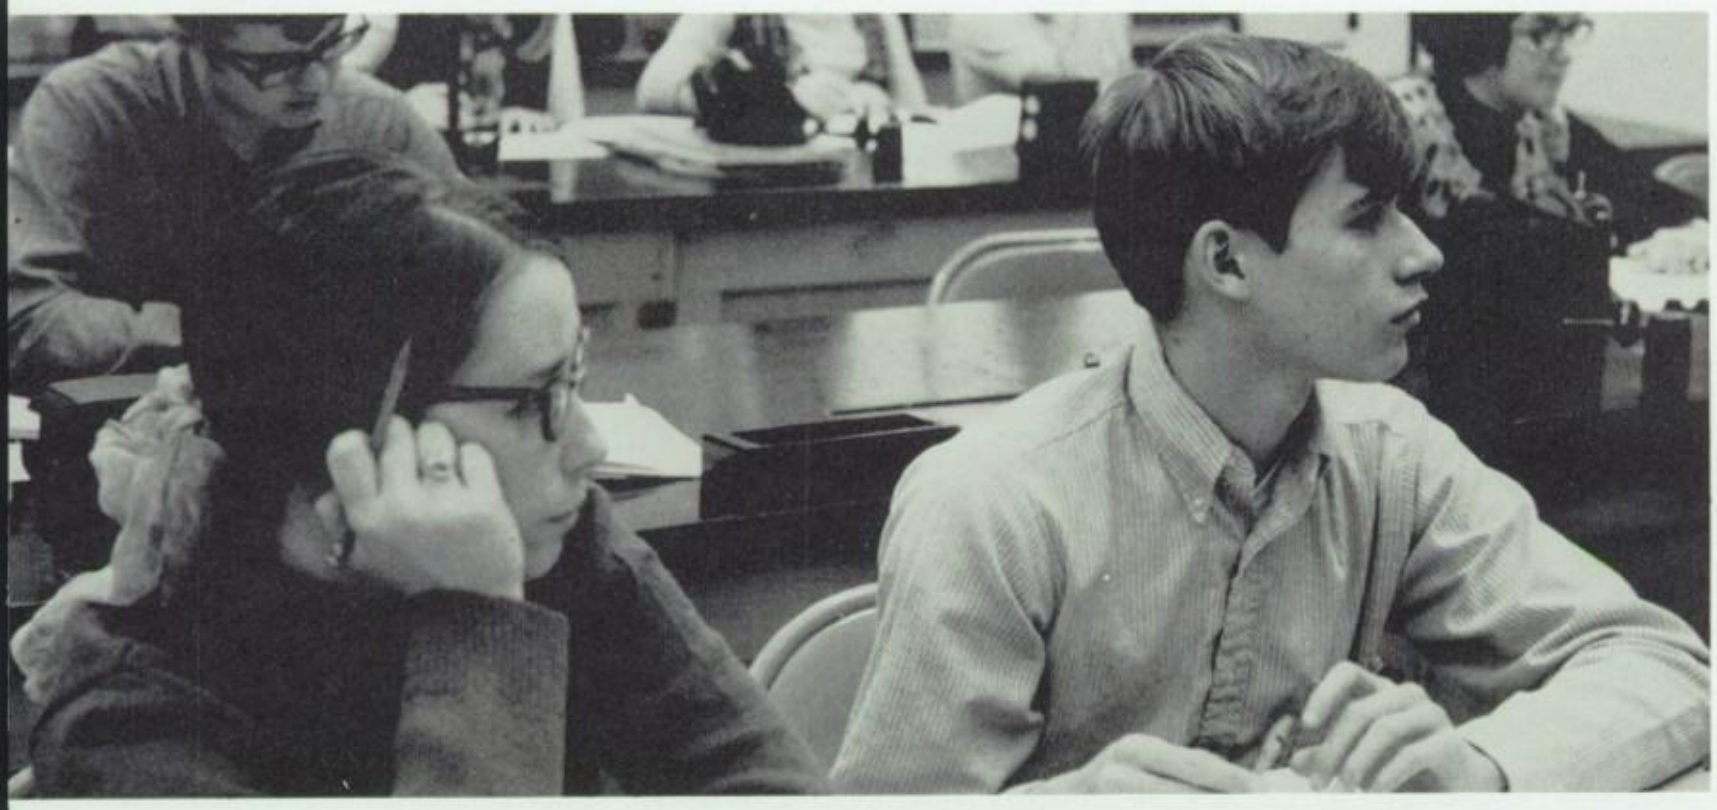


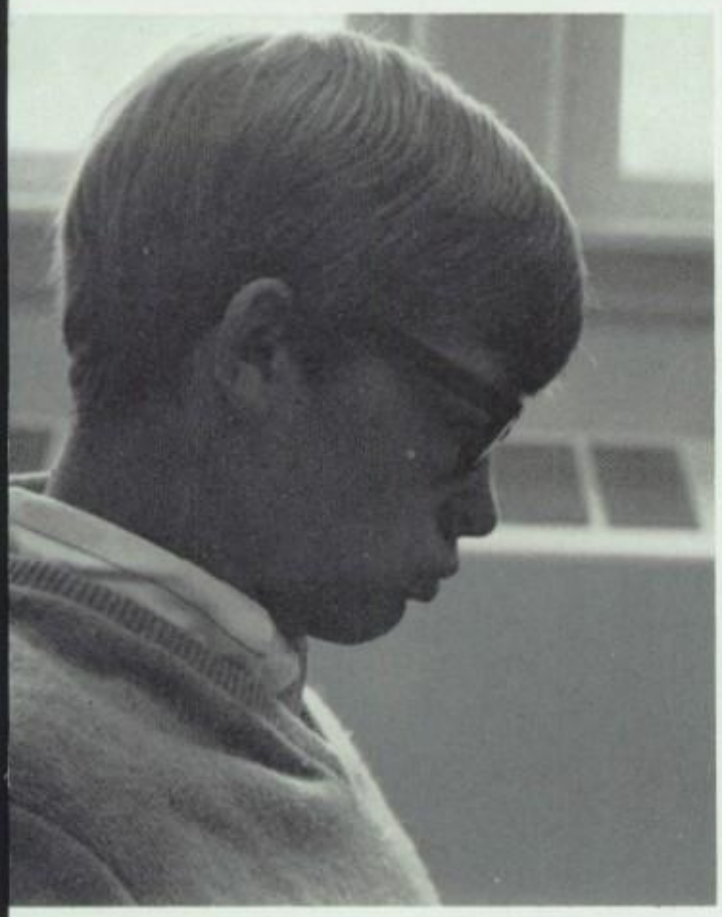


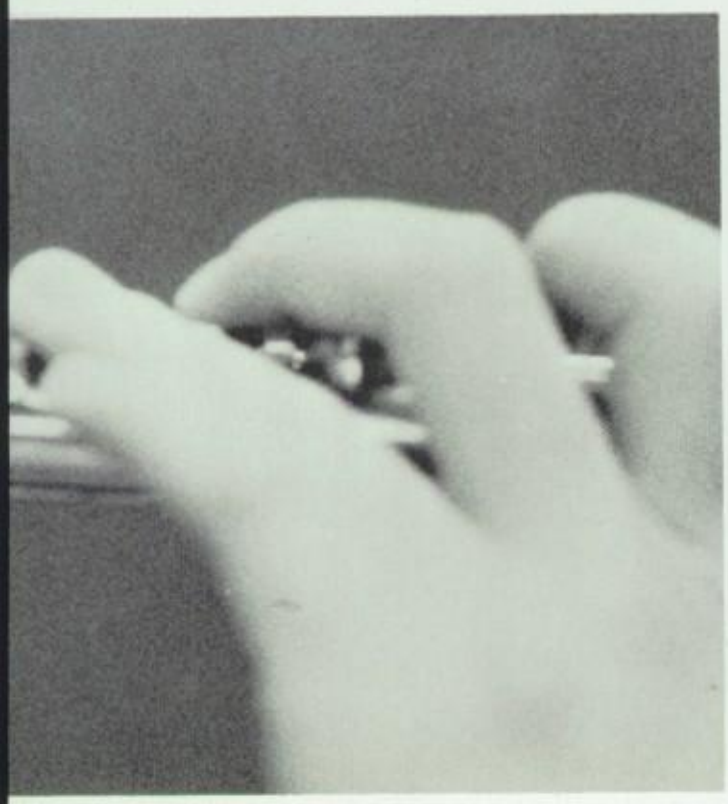
Impressions . . .











Dedication

Mr. Donald Santini came to LeRoy High School the same year as we, the senior class, entered our freshman year. Through these past 4 years he has earned our deepest respect and gained our highest regard. "Coach," as he is known to us, has produced many fine football, wrestling and track teams.

He is a man of many talents, as proven by his diversified duties. As chairman of the Physical Education Department, as well as Vice-Principal, he has helped keep the quality and spirit of LeRoy High School high. We, the graduating class, owe him a further debt of gratitude, for the contribution he has made as our class advisor.

Therefore, with a sense of deep gratitude and honor, we the Class of 1970 proudly dedicate this O-AT-KAN to you, Mr. Donald Santini.

Retiring Teachers

We, the staff of the 1970 O-AT-KAN, wish to express our gratitude to Mrs. Elmer G. Adams, Miss Irma DeVoe, Mrs. Almon J. Graham, and Miss Jessica Michael, for their many years of devoted service to Le Roy Central School.

Board of Education

The Board of Education, the foundation of our school system, is an extremely important governing body which formulates school policy. This year, under the direction of a new president, Mr. A. Adelbert Bell, the Board met bi-monthly with the principals, department heads, and grade chairmen to discuss either business or curriculum problems concerning the grade school and high school. Regular business meetings were held with Dr. Horr, the Superintendent of Schools, at which time the School's finances and budget were planned. The members worked capably and efficiently to provide for the school district the best possible atmosphere for a sound educational program for young people.

To the Members of the Class of 1970:

In the years to come you will look at your "O-AT-KAN" and reflect on the happy moments, and even some of the sad moments, that the pictures and narrations recall. Your class and its yearbook have now become part of the history and tradition of Le Roy Central School.

You can be proud of your achievements and your success during your school years, and I am looking forward in anticipation to the accomplishments which members of this class will effect in the years ahead.

TO THE CLASS
OF 1970:

As you reach this milestone in your life it is proper that we pause and reflect on your achievements. It is a most rewarding experience for one who has watched you grow up, to have played a part in making a wonderful year come true. Individually, and as a group, you have been outstanding in athletics, in music, in student government, as well as having obtained high scholastic achievement. I know that you will carry on high standards.

Sincerely,

Grace McBurney
Secretary

The Guidance Department prepares students for a post-high school career by advising them on course requirements, schedule changes, vocations, job opportunities, and colleges. Miss Elizabeth Suttell and Mr. Barry Hilbert, counselors for grades seven, nine, and eleven and eight, ten, and twelve respectively, assisted students in selecting the proper courses needed to fulfill graduation requirements. A special library file was kept, where senior high school students could obtain information pertaining to further education and part time or full time job opportunities. In applying for these, students used individual school records, which were prepared and maintained by the counselors throughout the year. These records included such information as the academic achievements and extracurricular activities of the students.

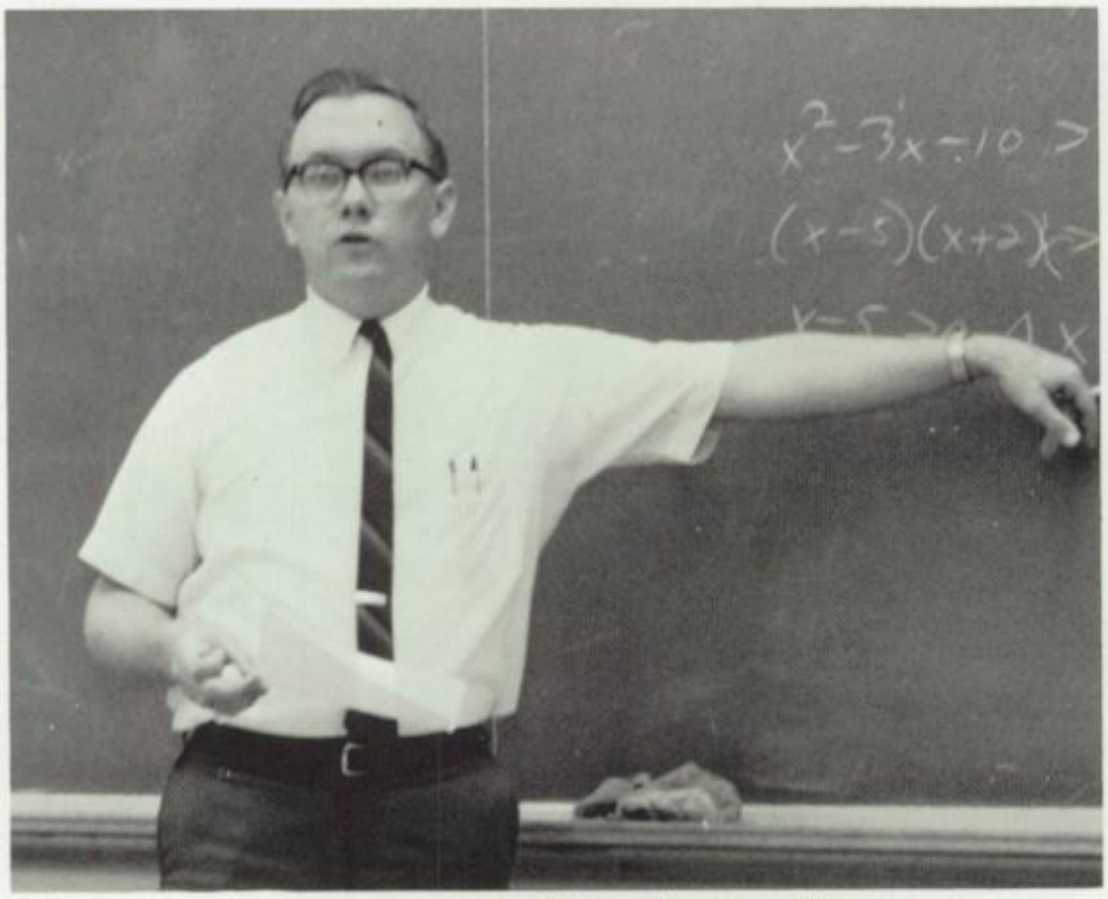
Math Curriculum Expanded: Basic Calculus Offered



"Even my wife would know the answer!"

The Mathematics Department offered a new college preparatory course, the Elements of Calculus, to interested seniors this year. The emphasis of the course was on analytic geometry, with concentration on derivations of algebraic functions during the latter part of the year. In the junior and senior high classes, the basic concepts presented in General Mathematics, Algebra, and Geometry provided the foundations for the more advanced courses of Trigonometry and Math 12.

With constant technological advancements and discoveries in our modern day world, the study of science has become increasingly important on the secondary school level. This year, the Science Department, seeking to update the curriculum, offered general physics in addition to general science, earth science, biology, chemistry, and regents physics. In the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades, instruction was presented by the use of the "large group instruction," supplemented by the tutorials. Extended laboratory periods provided an additional source of learning through experimentation and observation.

Study of Languages Added to Jr. High Program

The Language Department taught preliminary French, Spanish, and Latin on the junior high level this year. This was designed to interest the students in pursuing the four-year sequence of these languages in the senior high, where grammar and mechanics provided the basis of the courses. The studies of culture, history, literature and current events topics gave students more insight into each foreign country and its people. All classes were enhanced by the extensive use of Audio-visual equipment, including records and drill tapes for pronunciation, and film strips used to study art and architecture.

Business Preps Students For Future Jobs

The Business Department offered a variety of courses which were essential to many senior high business students, including: Introduction of Business, Shorthand, Business Math, Bookkeeping I and 2, Business Typing, Office Practice, and Business Law. With the aid of modern office equipment and machines, students received the experience needed to obtain employment upon completion of high school, or to continue with their education at a business college. Introduced into the curriculum, this year was a twenty week personal typing course offered to both business and non-business students. Seniors who planned to attend college, found this to be an essential course.

New Apparatus Highlights Phys. Ed.

With the addition of parallel bars, rings, and a safety belt for the trampoline, a more varied physical education program was initiated at LeRoy. Mrs. Beattie and Miss Abbey, who were new to the faculty this year instructed the girls classes in calisthenics, competitive sports, and gymnastics. These areas were more rigorously applied to the boys athletics by Coach Jay and Coach Santini. This enabled students to develop their coordination, agility, and strength throughout the year.

Donald Santini—Brockport, Cortland, Dir. Health and Physical Ed. Brockport. Jr.-Sr. High Phys. Ed. Vice-Principal, Director of Athletics. Advises: Senior Class. Coaches: Varsity Football, Track.

Linda Abbey—Brockport. Health—7th grade, Phys. Ed. 9, 10.

Ind. Arts–Jr./Sr. High Workshop

A realization of design, construction and workmanship was developed in students taking Industrial Arts. An appreciation of handmade objects, and a sense of responsibility was gained by junior high boys through the use of woods and metals. Those boys who wished to continue with industrial arts could take advanced courses in the senior high, in which they learn the skills of carpentry and the construction and operation of machinery.

Craig Rothmeyer—State U. C. of Buffalo. Ind. Arts, Mech. Drawing.

Use nails, boys, not chewing gum!

Grace Leanen—Buffalo; Adv. Study, Brockport. Home Ec. 7, 8, 10, 11, 12.

Home Ec–Study of Domestic Arts

The Home Economics Department offered girls the opportunity to study the domestic arts of cooking, sewing, and home life. Junior high girls studied a general course combining both cooking and sewing, while senior high girls received specialized instruction in both of these arts, achieving efficiency through repeated practices. Home life was a special course offered only to seniors.

This is a can.

I hope it fits.

Musical Activities Many and Varied

This year the Music Department was under the direction of a new choral teacher, Mr. Robert Eaton, and a new instrumental teacher, Mr. William Clifford. An expanded music curriculum was offered including a new mixed choir for interested seventh and eighth graders. A variety of instrumental groups, such as: a symphonic band, a junior band, a brass ensemble, a clarinet choir, and a dance band were created for junior and senior high students.

William Clifford—Eastman School of Music. Director of Instrumental Music-Marching Band, Concert Band.

Robert Eaton—Hartwick College. Gen. Music 7, 8, Jr. High Chorus, Sr. High Girls Chorus, Oatkanaires, Musical.

New Media Stimulates Creative Art Curriculum

Mrs. Craig Rothmeyer, the new art teacher this year, introduced a curriculum designed to make art more appealing to students. Through a variety of media, color and design were brought out in two-dimensional drawings and paintings. Metals and woods were used to stimulate imaginative three-dimensional work, including sculpturing and free design. These projects helped each student develop his individual style and technique.

Thomas Simon—Notre Dame; Adv. Study, Ithaca College. Driver Ed. Coaches: Bowling.

Dr. Ed. Adds New "Wheels"

A New York State law effective last year requires students to take a 3-hour course in Driver Education in order to obtain their licenses. This year, to give more students the opportunity to participate in the program, two new 1970 cars were purchased by the Department. These additions allowed students to gain more experience in driving, which is a vital part of the course. Class room instruction combined with "on the road" training under all possible driving conditions proved effective in teaching students safe, defensive driving.

Teaching the techniques of reading.

Thomas Norzyk—Brockport, Reading Specialist.

Reading – Jr. High Course

The ability to read is the most important tool for learning. Instruction to correct reading problems was given to students in grades 7, 8, and 9. With small classes, Mr. Norzyk was able to give students necessary individual attention.

A.F.S. 1970 — Michelle

Michele Costantini, LeRoy's 1969-1970 AFS student, brought to us the mysteries of France, in exchange for the realities of American life. His cheerful smile and pleasant personality gave way to a more serious nature when confronted with questions about today's happenings. He displayed stimulating ideas that are often novel to us Americans and evoked a realization that life holds forth a wide variety of patterns. The class of 1970 is indeed grateful to this garçon for making their last high school year more memorable.

Seniors 1970

Each class finds their senior year a year of conflicting emotions, perplexing questions, and important decisions. Perhaps, because of the tempo of the times, we found ours a year of contrasts. We, as seniors, drew closer together in camaraderie, yet we pulled apart as we involved ourselves in our own lives and problems. We tried to help each other yet we were alone in our decisions. We became so occupied with our many activities that the year flew by, yet it never seemed to end. We struggled with our own emerging adulthood; we tried to hasten the process, yet we did not wish to accept all the responsibilities of adulthood. We constantly looked toward graduation and our commencement into life, yet we could not help but reflect on our years in the school and how the institution and its constituents left their indelible impression upon each of us.

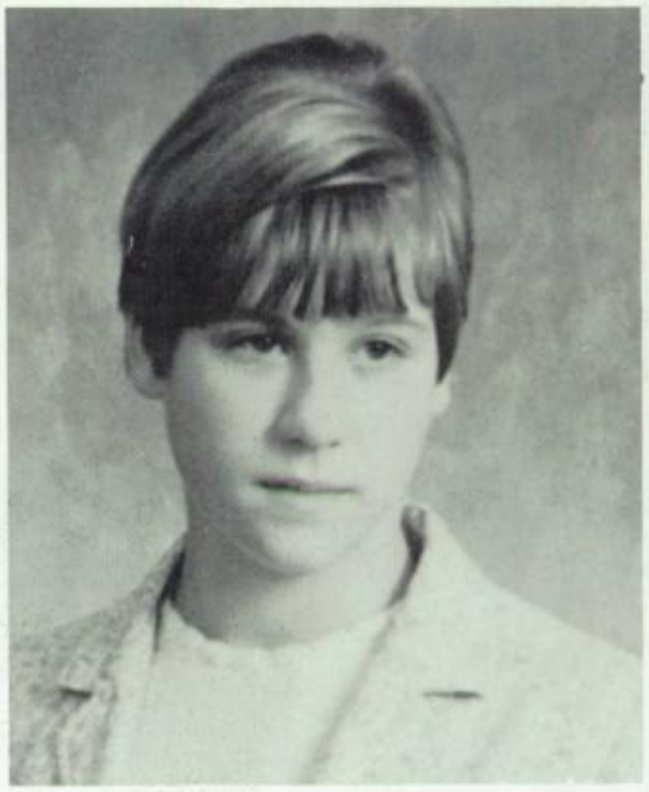
In Memory:

We the members of the staff of the 1970 O-AT-KAN, wish to dedicate this page in memory of Wendy Shepard. She will always be remembered as a wonderful and ambitious member of the freshman class and a dear friend to those students and teachers who knew her. The following poem which Wendy wrote is a reflection of life as she saw it.



Wendy Shepard

We ALL Make it That Way

The Lord made us all,
And whether or not the world will be happy or sad,
We make it that way.

Whether or not it will be holy or mad or sinful,
We make it that way.

The Lord made us in his image,
and he wanted us to be like him,
and he wanted us to love, and pray and have faith in him.
But we turned it all down,
We also make it that way.

But the Lord said, "Forgive them,"
And he did and what did we do?
We took advantage of him and we turned it all down, into the world we wanted.

Yes, we pray, some of us,
Yes, we have faith in him,
Oh yes, we want love.

But we all have a different way about this.
We also make it that way too.

Activities

L.H.S. Student Association

Joseph Ferrara, President; Barbara Ellison, Secretary; Abbey Streed, Vice President; Blaine Panepento, Treasurer.

The LeRoy Student Association involved itself in both school and community activities. In September, the Student Association sponsored several football pep rallies to stimulate school spirit, climaxed by the traditional bonfire to end the season. Several new ideas, including a spring "Grub Day" and a cafeteria monitoring system, were incorporated into the school system. Throughout the year, the Student Association also worked with the United Youth Organization to organize and establish a teen center within the community.

June marked the beginning of what seemed to be an endless year or the O-AT-KAN staff who faced the almost impossible task of roducing the 1970 O-AT-KAN. Most meetings were held early each aturday morning, where droopy-eyed editors awoke to the command f their fearless, fumbling editor-in-chief. Amidst sick jokes, discussion f latest gossip, and general complaining, a considerable amount of ork was done. As deadlines approached, the full fury of the storm et in. Copy had to be typed on "triplicates," pictures had to be ropped to fit, and what was once an acceptable layout had to be e-designed. Under the heavy hand of the editor-in-chief, the staff net daily to tie up these loose ends. The result of these innumerable ours of work is the 1970 O-AT-KAN: imaginative, unique, and, hope-ully, enjoyable.

Red and Black

The "Red and Black" proved both interesting and informative this year under the editorial policy of Gregory Hall. Each issue featured on-the-spot reports, gossip columns, and sports highlights. In addition, the paper concentrated on formal essays and editorials by the staff. Both students and faculty were offered the opportunity to challenge these radical opinions and controversial editorials. In this way, the paper served as the media through which both the traditional and the new ideas of today's youth could be expressed.

Music Department

The Music Department presented two public concerts this year which featured both the established and the new choral and instrumental groups. A Junior High Mixed Chorus, modeled after Senior High Oatkanaires, was added to the vocal section. Although a first attempt, the chorus proved talented and successful under the direction of Mr. Robert Eaton.

Mr. William Clifford, the instrumental teacher, organized a Junior band and a Clarinet Choir, which added to the variety of musical opportunities provided for LHS students. Capping off the year was the spring musical, Finian's Rainbow, directed by Mr. Robert Eaton and Mr. Robert Sullivan.

The LeRoy Rotary Club sponsored the formation of our Interact Club, a new organization in LeRoy High School. Membership is offered to boys in tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades who have achieved an average of 75 and have participated in at least one interscholastic sport. The main purpose of the club is to teach high school boys more about their community through participation in outside activities and projects.

This year, among other activities, the club worked consistantly with the Swimming Pool Committee, and also sponsored a "toys for tots" drive.

Tom Burrell led the 1969 Cross Country team farther than it has ever gone before. Although the season's record doesn't show it, Tom finished first in all but two meets. He erased these losses by winning the Alfred-Almond Invitational, placing 2nd at the sectionals, and at the state meet, Tom finished 15th out of the top 150 runners in N. Y. State. Coach William Tripp has helped Tom along this year, and believes with Tom leading a more experienced team next year, 1970 should prove more rewarding.

New League Upsets Varsity Team

Breaking into the Livingston County League proved tougher than Santini's Stranglers expected. LeRoy spent a main part of the season in the cellar, but fought back to finish fourth. Injuries robbed the team of many valuable men, and certainly must be considered a factor in defeat; however, the loss did not cripple the team as a whole. There was enough depth throughout the entire team such that someone was always able to take over another's position.

Guided by the skillful hands of Coach Sullivan, the Jr. Knights rode undefeated in the 1969 season. Led by the powerful running of Mark O'Gee, LHS annihilated team after team, defeating Caledonia in their closest game by 14. A hard hitting line combined to an unextinguishable stamina, were major factors of the 7-0 season, and should be attributed to the new techniques of Coach Brooks.

A recent college graduate, William Brooks, took over as wrestling coach for the O-At-Kan matmen and immediately began teaching the various holds and moves he had learned over his eight year grappling career. He soon discovered the large amount of talent within the team which he was able to perfect into the first winning team LeRoy has known. Captain Reid Redding, Carmen Muoio, and Mike Perry, three of the nine seniors on the Varsity Team, all placed second in the county tournament enabling them to represent LeRoy at sectionals. The rapid growth of wrestling at L.H.S. is an indication of Red and Black power that will soon be dominating the Livingston County League.

J.V.'s Keep Winning!

The Junior ball-hawks continued their winning streak of last year for the first six games of the new season, but were rudely checked by a fired-up Perry team in their seventh outing. The "Yellow-jackets" put together a fine game to beat the young knights, but this one loss did not by any means hinder the team in their climb to an overall winning season. The height of Doug Kibler, coupled with the outstanding "Alexander-brothers" combination, enabled Le Roy to dominate the J.V. competition. Mr. Robert McGurrin, new to the coaching profession, has found fine talent in all of his boys and has managed to bring out the best in each.

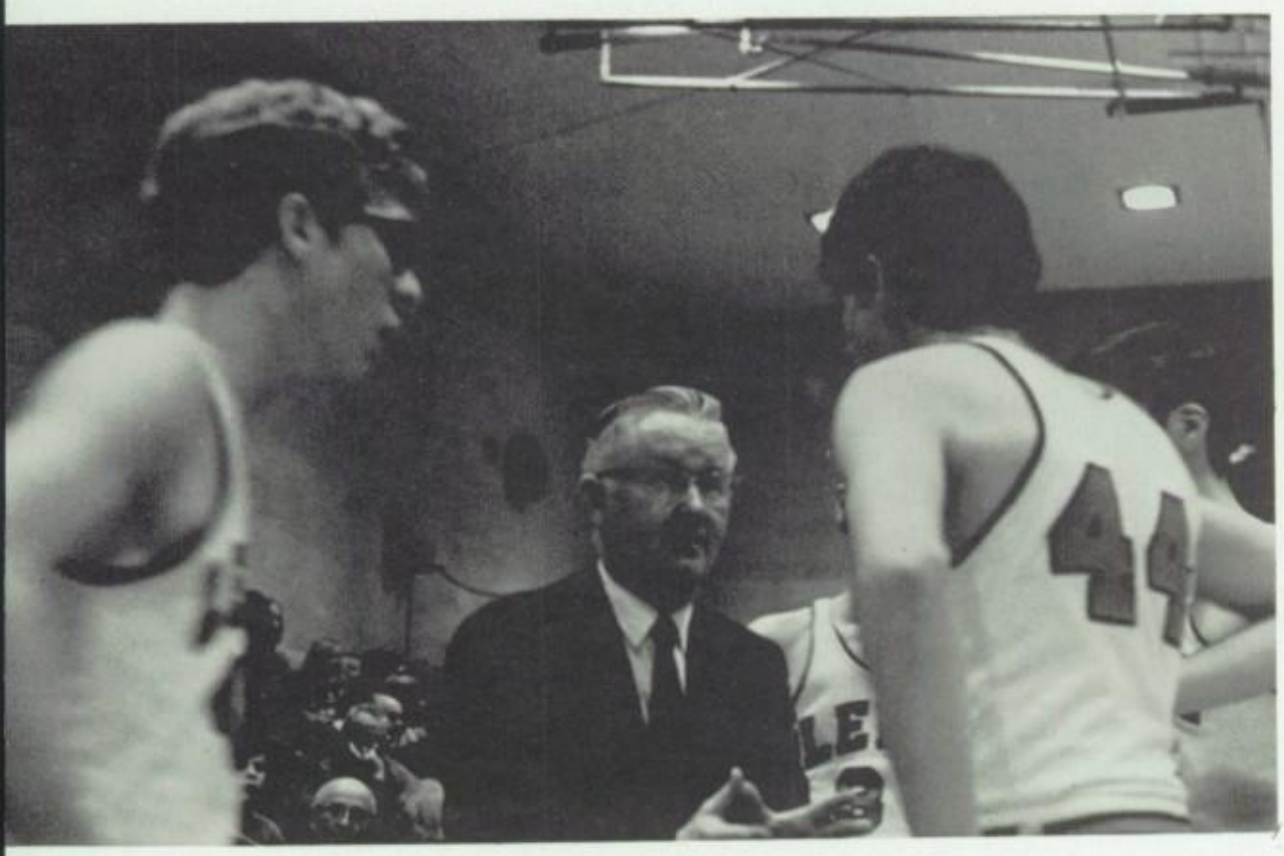
Injuries Hamper Varsity Season



Beginning with a relatively short team, Coach Francis Longhini found his problem multiplied when an unusually large portion of his Varsity hoopsters fell victim to injuries. Three of the original starting five spent most of the season sidelined, forcing Coach Longhini to continually change the lineup. LeRoy was, however, kept in Section V playoff contention through the fine team play from the rest of the squad. Coach Longhini's patience and many years of experience were able to bring out the best from each player, and in so doing instilled in them an unbeatable desire to win.

Juniors Lead Track Team as Many Records Fall

Though lacking experienced seniors the '69 track team refused to give up. Many records were broken during the season in the discus, mile medley, 880, and perhaps the most impressively in the two mile. Tom Burrell slashed 22 seconds off the old two mile time, setting a new record of 10:30. Reid Redding, a most valuable team man, starred in the mile at the year's outset, but dropped to the 880 later on, breaking the old school record.

Varsity Hurlers Reach Semi-finals in New League

Senior Joe Macaluso led the 1969 Knights in the field with his accurate eye and sharp sense of timing. Joe plugged the short stop hole all year and wound up the season with a .343 batting average. Coach Raymond Jay combined the pitching talents of Bob Hope and Bob Higgins with the catching of Blaine Panepento to baffle the opposing hitters. This combination worked through the quarter finals but dying in the semi-finals, LeRoy was stopped cold, leaving the Livingston County baseball crown for another year.

The junior knights encountered tough competition during their first year of play in the 1969 Livingston County League. The team exhibited great potential especially in Pete Lambert and Mike Lathan. Both men kept the team in contention all year with their powerful hitting. Coach Nicholas Borrelli jockeyed many positions and produced a winning combination at the end of the season.

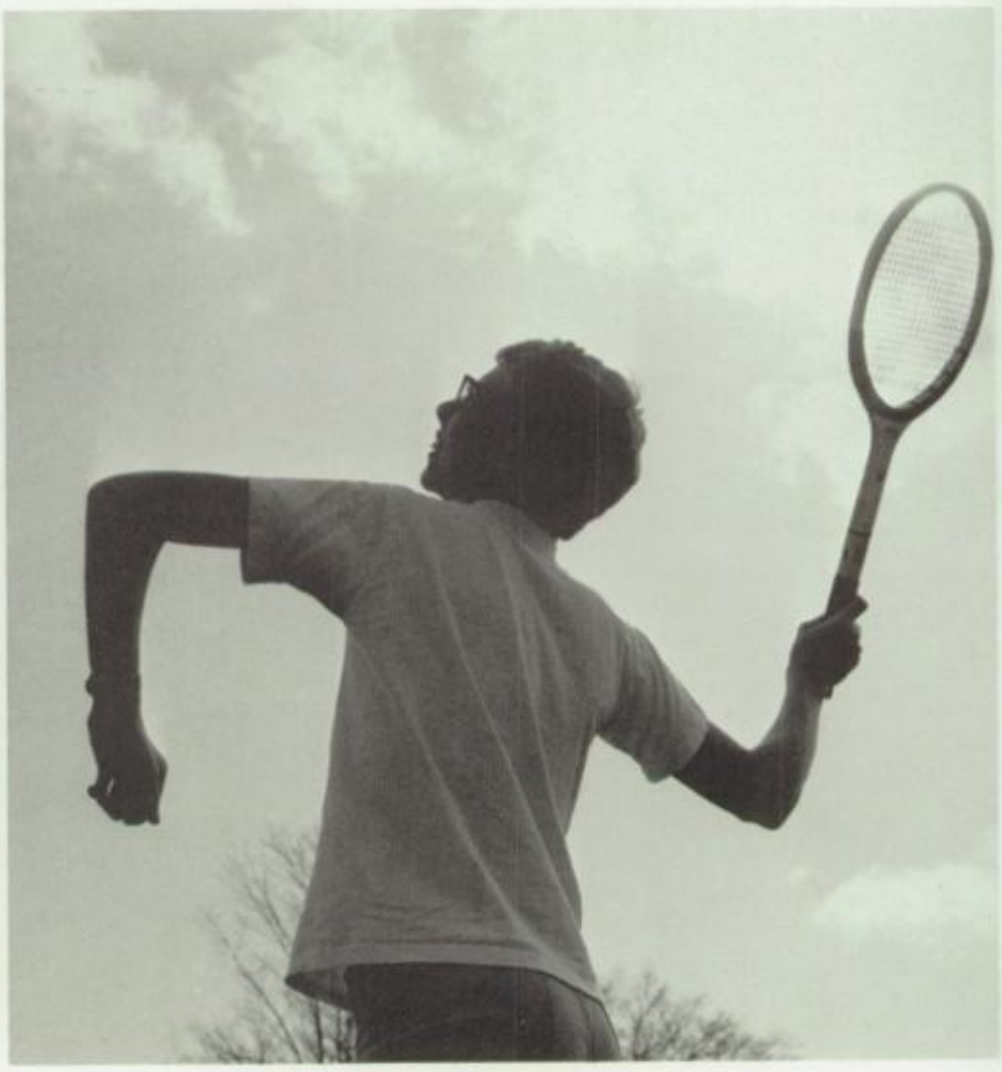
Being in love isn't always beautiful, for in tennis love is nothing, i.e., no score. The 1969 Tennis Team left a much to be desired record, but they learned much in losing and gained a valuable year's experience. Greg Hall, Alan Lewis, and Don Stockdale were the team leaders and will be a great asset next year. Due to the poor showing, there is much hope for a better season in 1970.



Golf Season Above Par

Leading on the greens last year LeRoy's Duffers were John Brady and Bob Felt, both returning lettermen. They placed 1 and 2 respectively in the Livingston County meet to qualify for positions on the sectional team. Bob Felt shot par consistently all year, while John Brady played a game that gained momentum as the pressure increased. Coach Roy Stehle helped sharpen some of the rough edges in the game of the would be duffers.

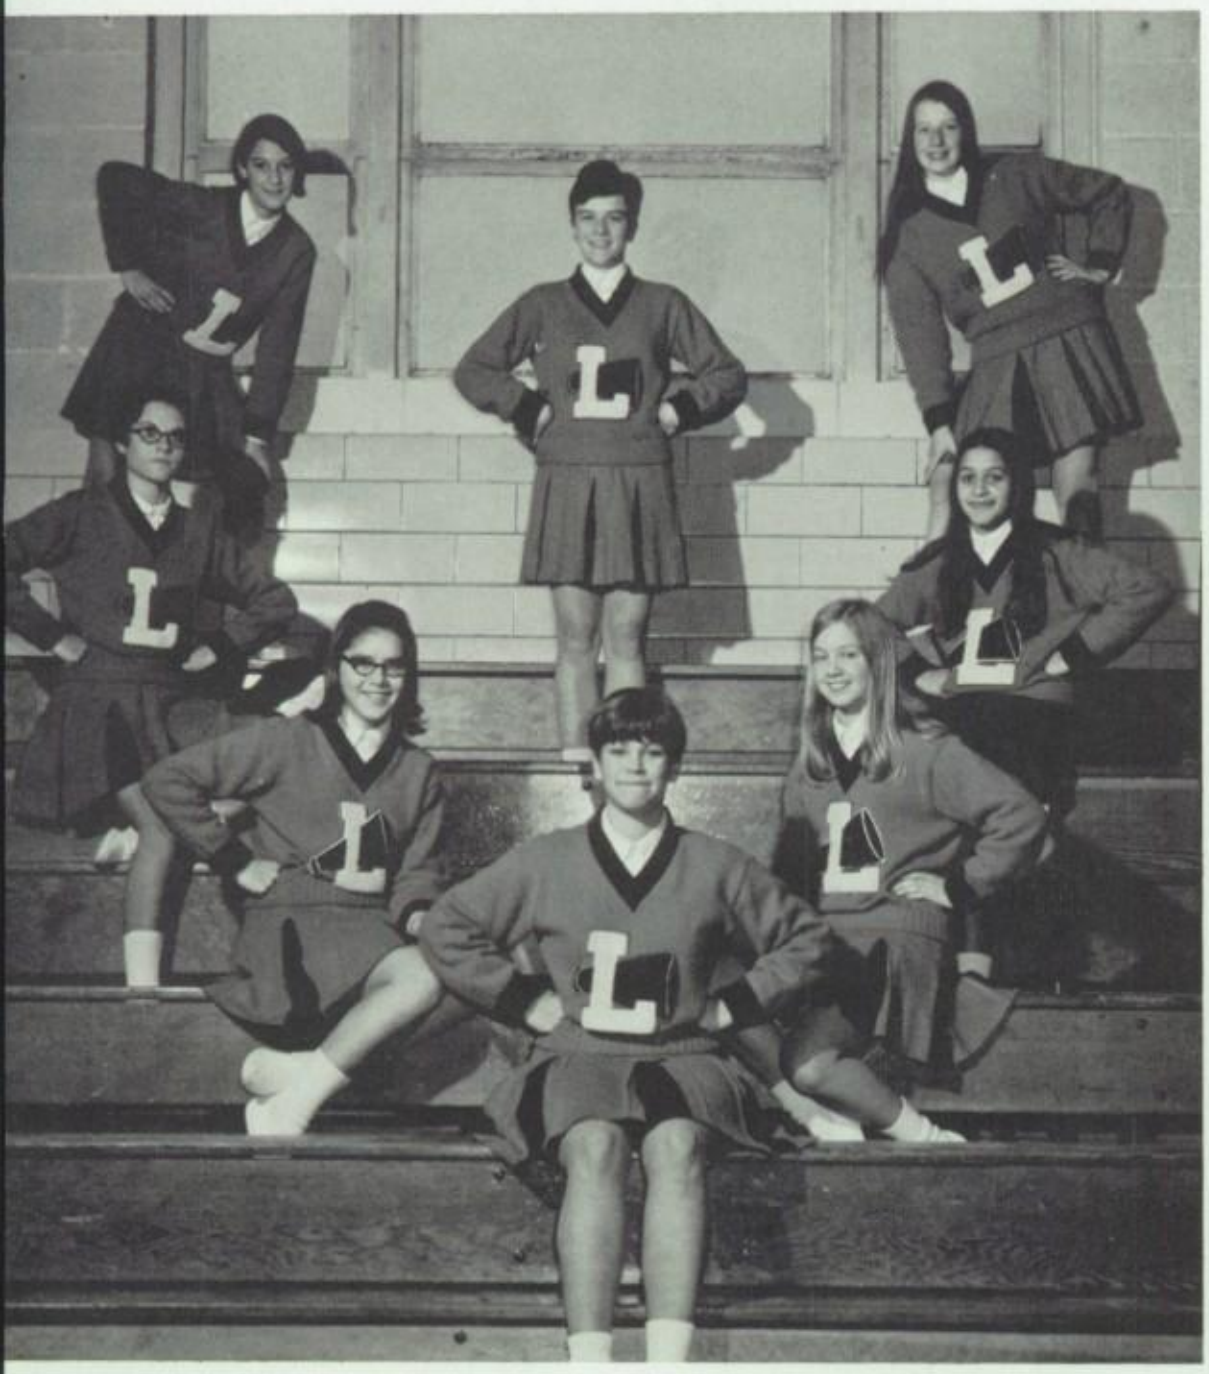
Cheerleaders Spark School Spirit



The value of a crowd to a team cannot be evaluated in points, but it is conventionally agreed upon that a crowds' excitement often sparks a victory. This electricity is converted into power by the cheerleaders who always manage to unite the crowd in the game's tenser moments. Due to their leadership, these girls must be considered an essential part of a team, and certainly must be complimented for beautifying the playing field.

"Little Olympics" Climaxes Girls Sports Program

The reserved sophistication characteristic of a LeRoy High School girl often turns to violent aggressiveness when she participates in feminine athletics. The sports range from field hockey, to bowling, to softball, all offering cumulative points which enable the girls to earn their numerals, letter, or the gold key which is the most prized and difficult to receive. The various awards are presented in an assembly at the end of the year in which the physical prowess of the young ladies is honored. The major event for the girls is the "Little Olympics" where class competes against class in numerous games, culminating in the traditional victory of the senior girls.

Wolcott Street School Dedication 1970

Our early years in school are perhaps the most important to us. A devoted teacher can make these years truly enjoyable and can instill in us a desire for learning that we will use throughout our lives.

Such a teacher is Miss Jessica Michael. Fondly remembered by all of us who have had her, we will always call to mind her understanding manner, her sense of humor and her musical talent. All of these things made our time spent with her most enjoyable.

It is with deep pride, therefore, that we the staff of the 1970 O-AT-KAN present the Wolcott Street School dedication to you, Miss Jessica Michael.

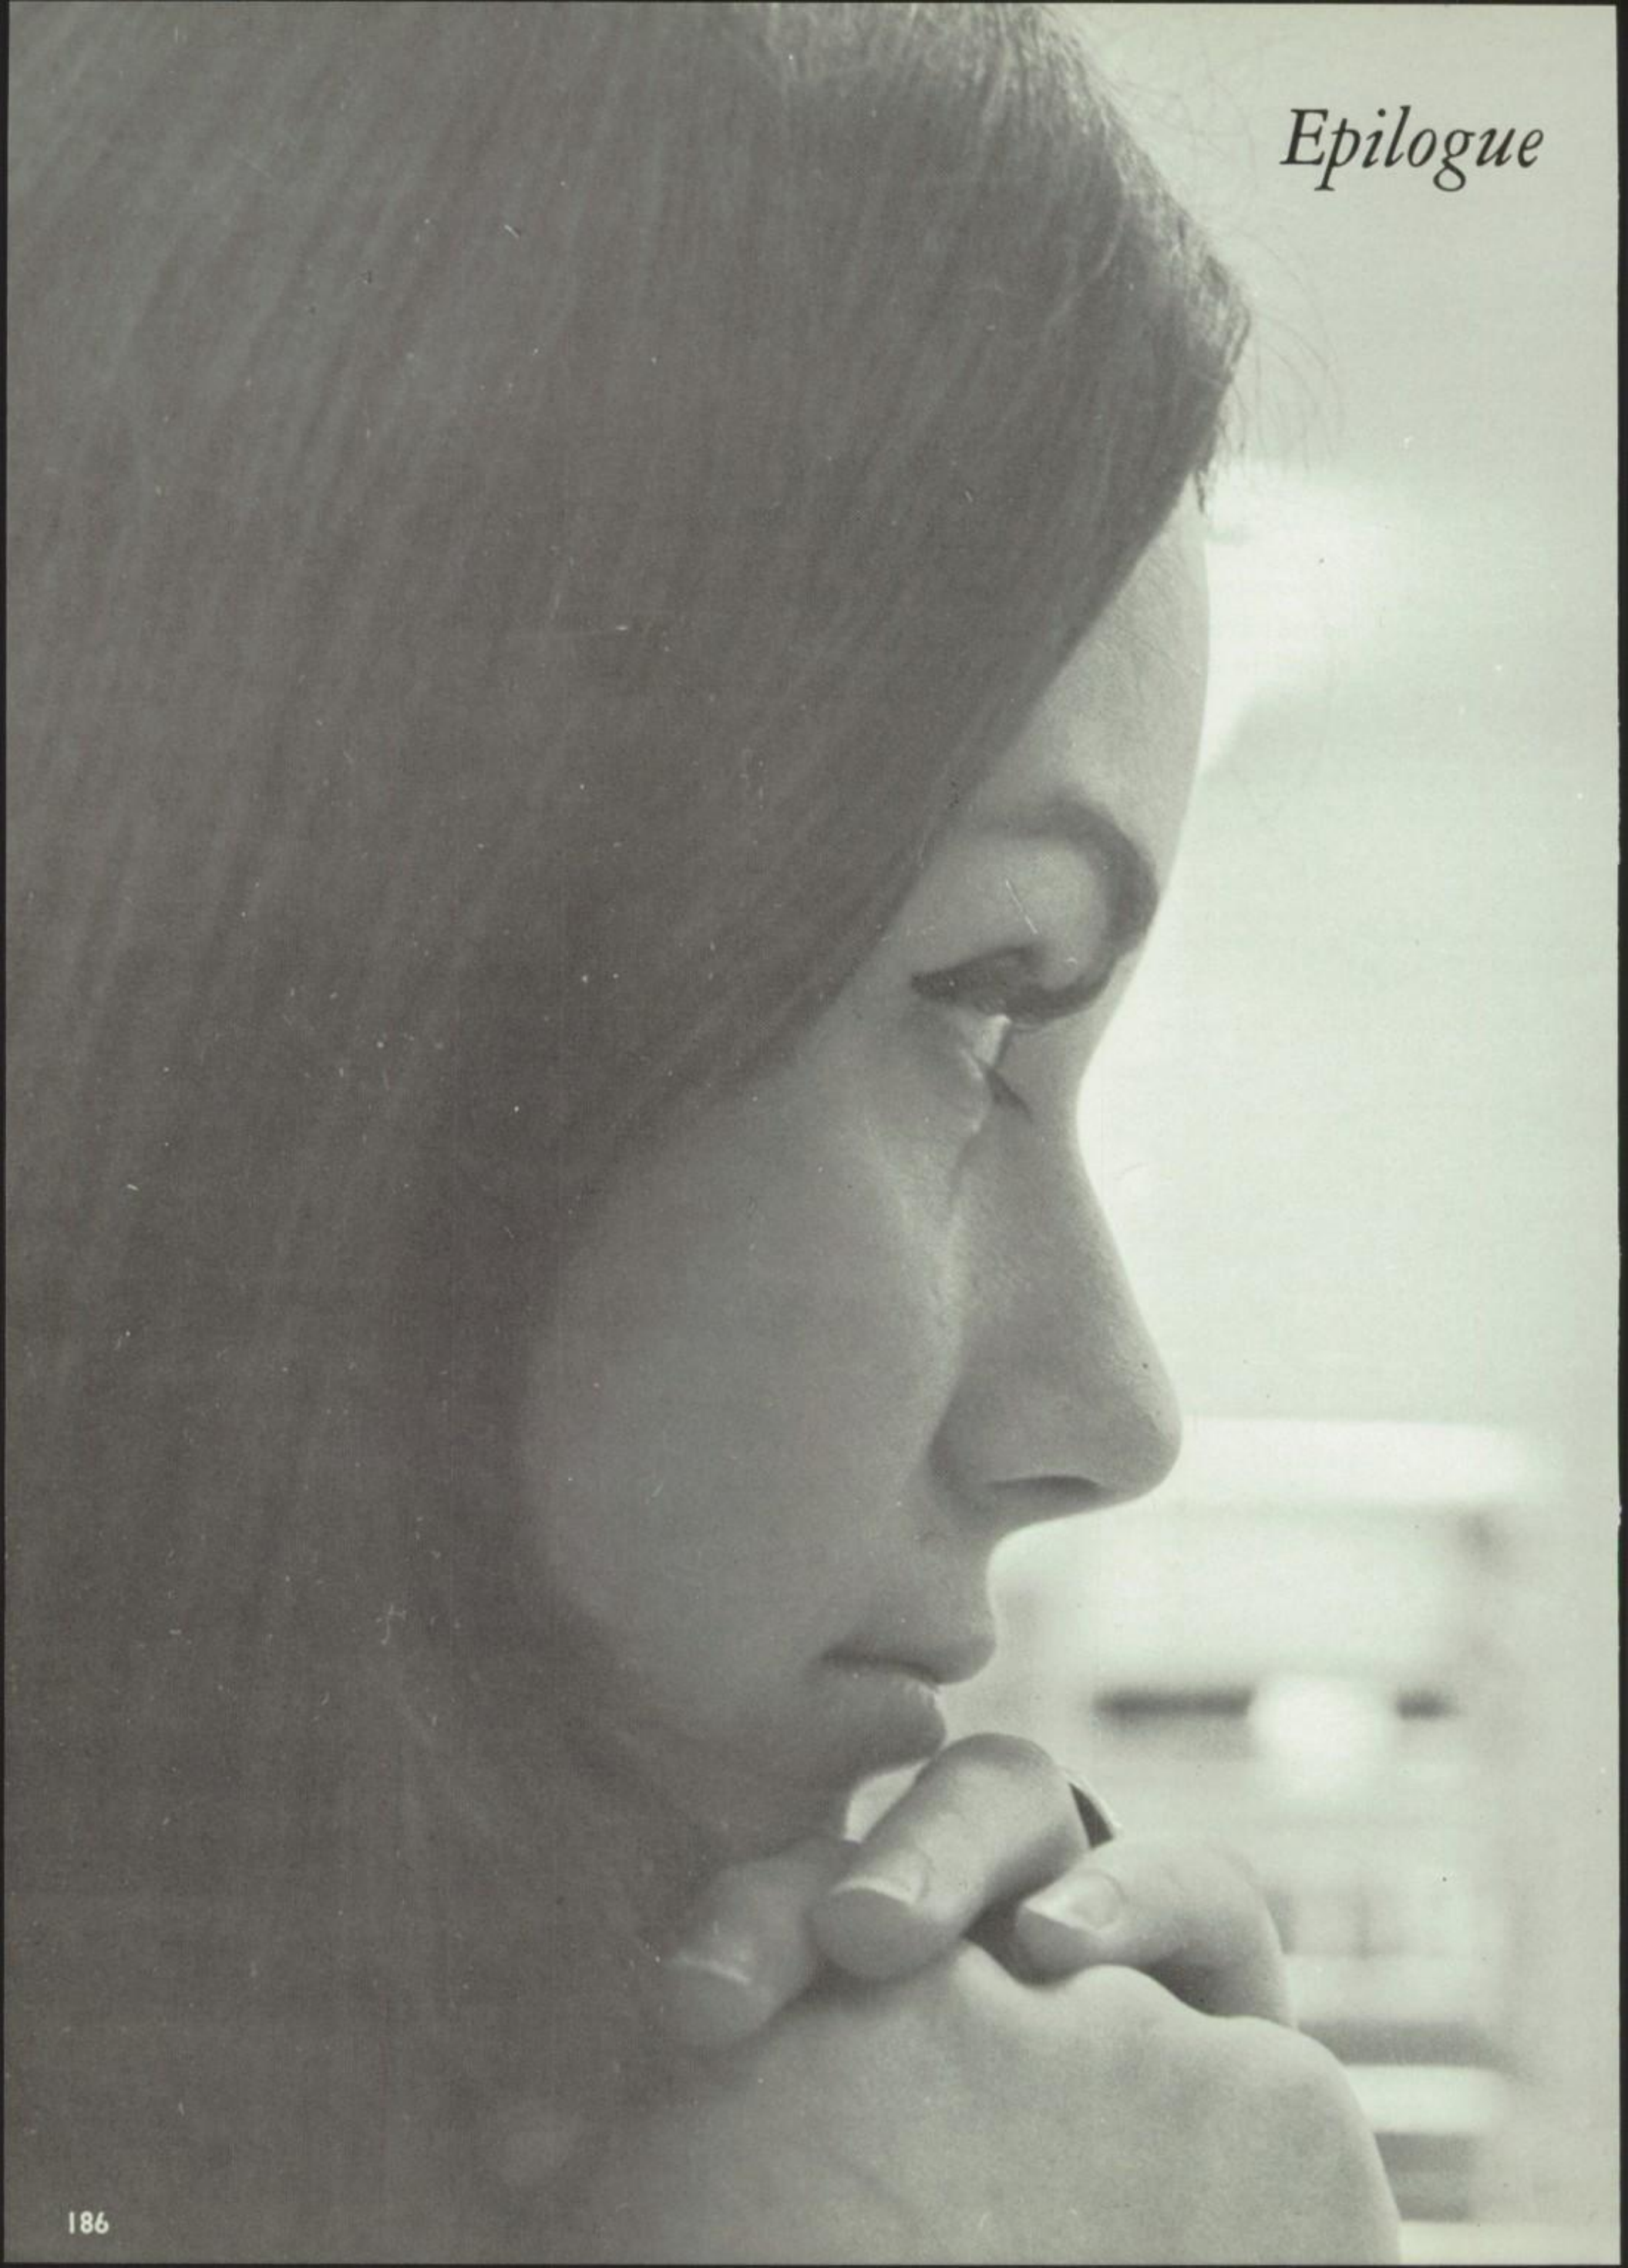
Epilogue



It is with great relief yet considerable regret that I now close this 1970 O-AT-KAN. Its production was a tremendously time consuming job, beset with crises, difficult decisions and confusion. Overshadowing all our efforts was the constant question, "Are we producing a work that has meaning to our fellow students?" We couldn't be sure what you would like, so we simply did our best, as we saw it, to develop the theme, "Reflections and Impressions." This year was a reflection of the change in both youth and education. Students were more involved and concerned with both national and local issues. They attempted to implement their beliefs in and out of school and met with both success and failure, but they were more involved. We believe we have indeed captured many of the events, personalities, and emotions which comprised the school year. If it evokes, as we believe it does, a strictly individual and unique set of reflections and impressions in each reader now, and in ten years, and in thirty years, then we shall feel rewarded.

I am happy to acknowledge the tremendous help contributed by my loyal editors. I wish to thank each and every one of them, and especially my associate-editor, Barbara Ellison, for their enthusiasm, dedication, hard work and wide talent. Speaking for them, as well as myself, we greatly appreciate the constant support and diligent effort of the many staff members. I wish to thank Mr. Klingensmith for his sage advice and counsel, his countless hours of help, and the moral support he gave us during the many hard times. There is no denying that this book is the result of a great team effort.

Thanks are due also to the administration and faculty of the high school and elementary school for their forbearance during the many times yearbook work interrupted class routines.

Finally, I thank you, my fellow students, for your keen interest and enthusiasm which made our task of recording the year easier and more enjoyable. I and the editors must no longer call this "our book"; it is now yours.

Donald K. Stockdale, Jr.

Miss Fortmiller,
Thank you for the great understanding you gave me this year.

John Sequerth "73"

Miss Fortmiller,
Your a great teacher.

Johnette Parmelee

Miss Fortmiller,

Thanky you for being a wonderful teacher. I have really enjoyed all of your classes. I'm hoping to have you as a math teacher in my junior year.

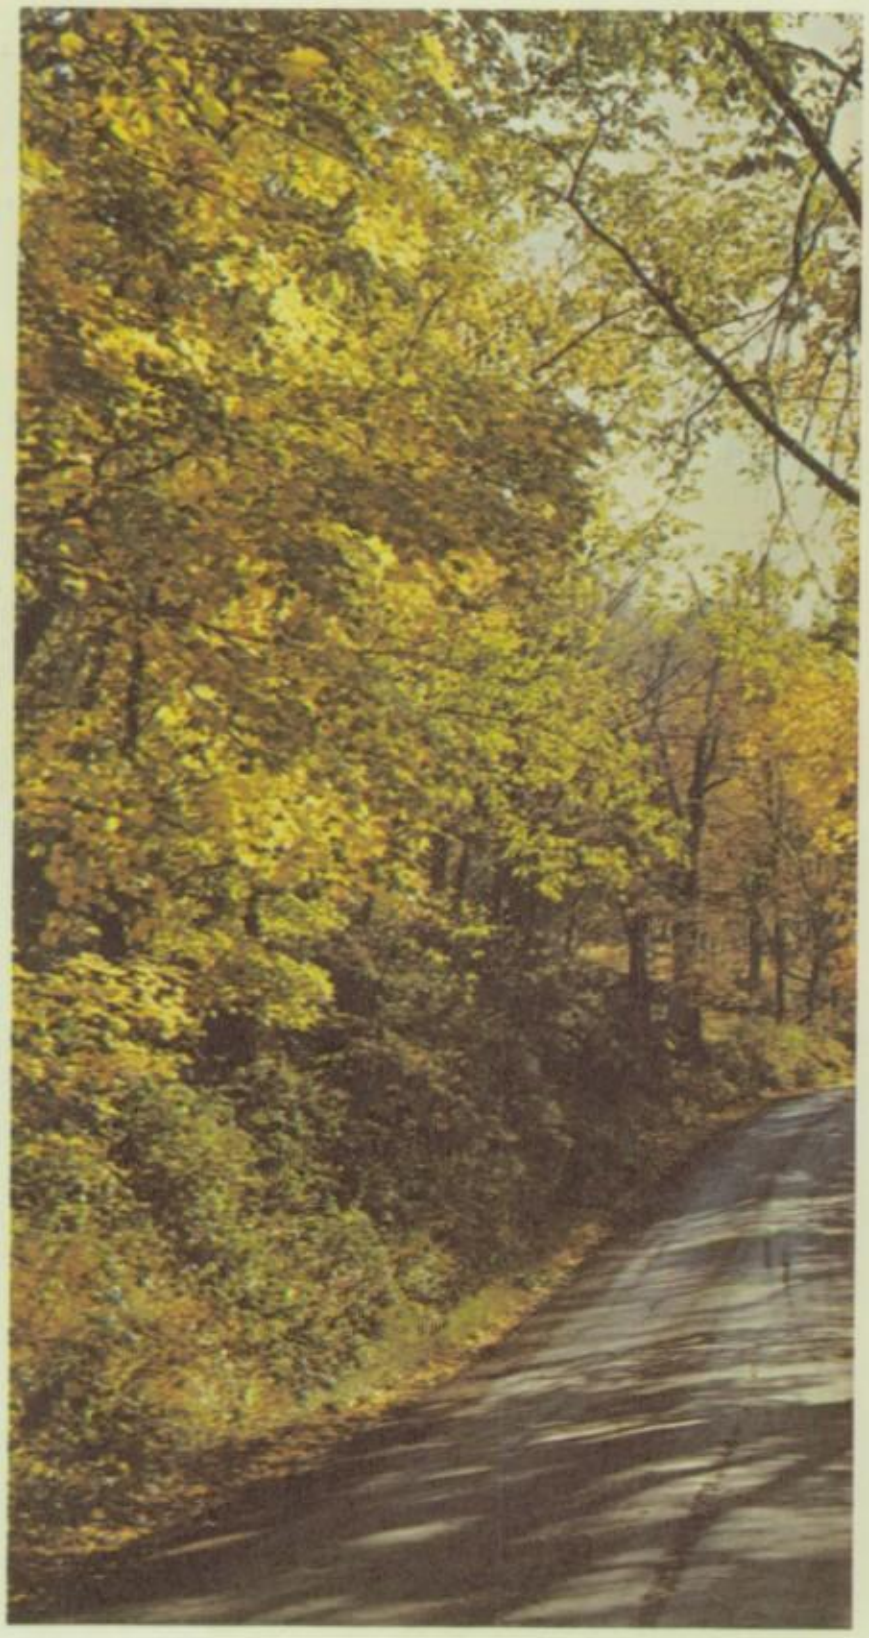
Phyllis Macaluso
'73

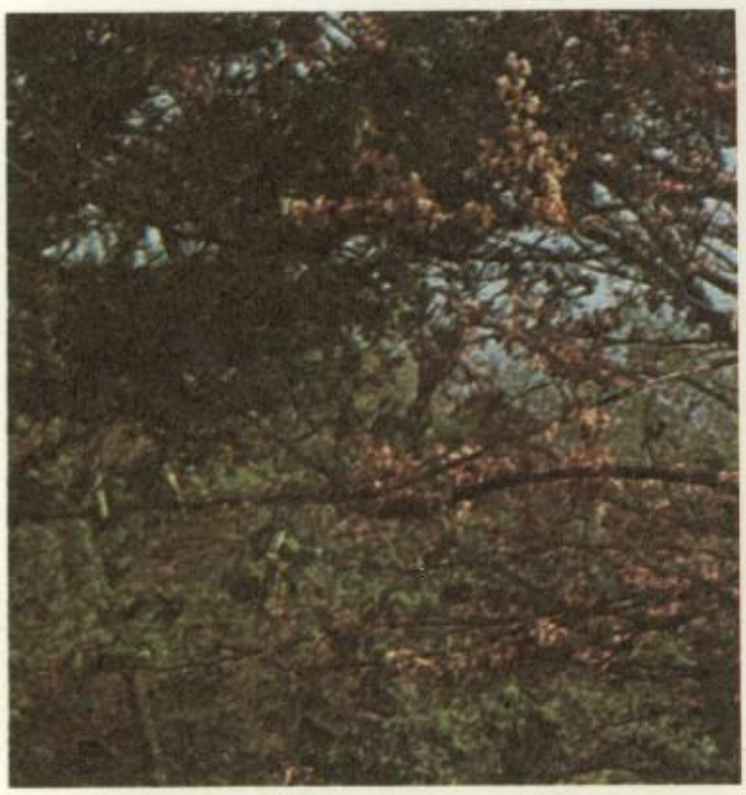
Miss Fortmiller,
Thank you for all of the help that you gave me This year. It was really appreciated and needed especially. Youre a really great teacher.

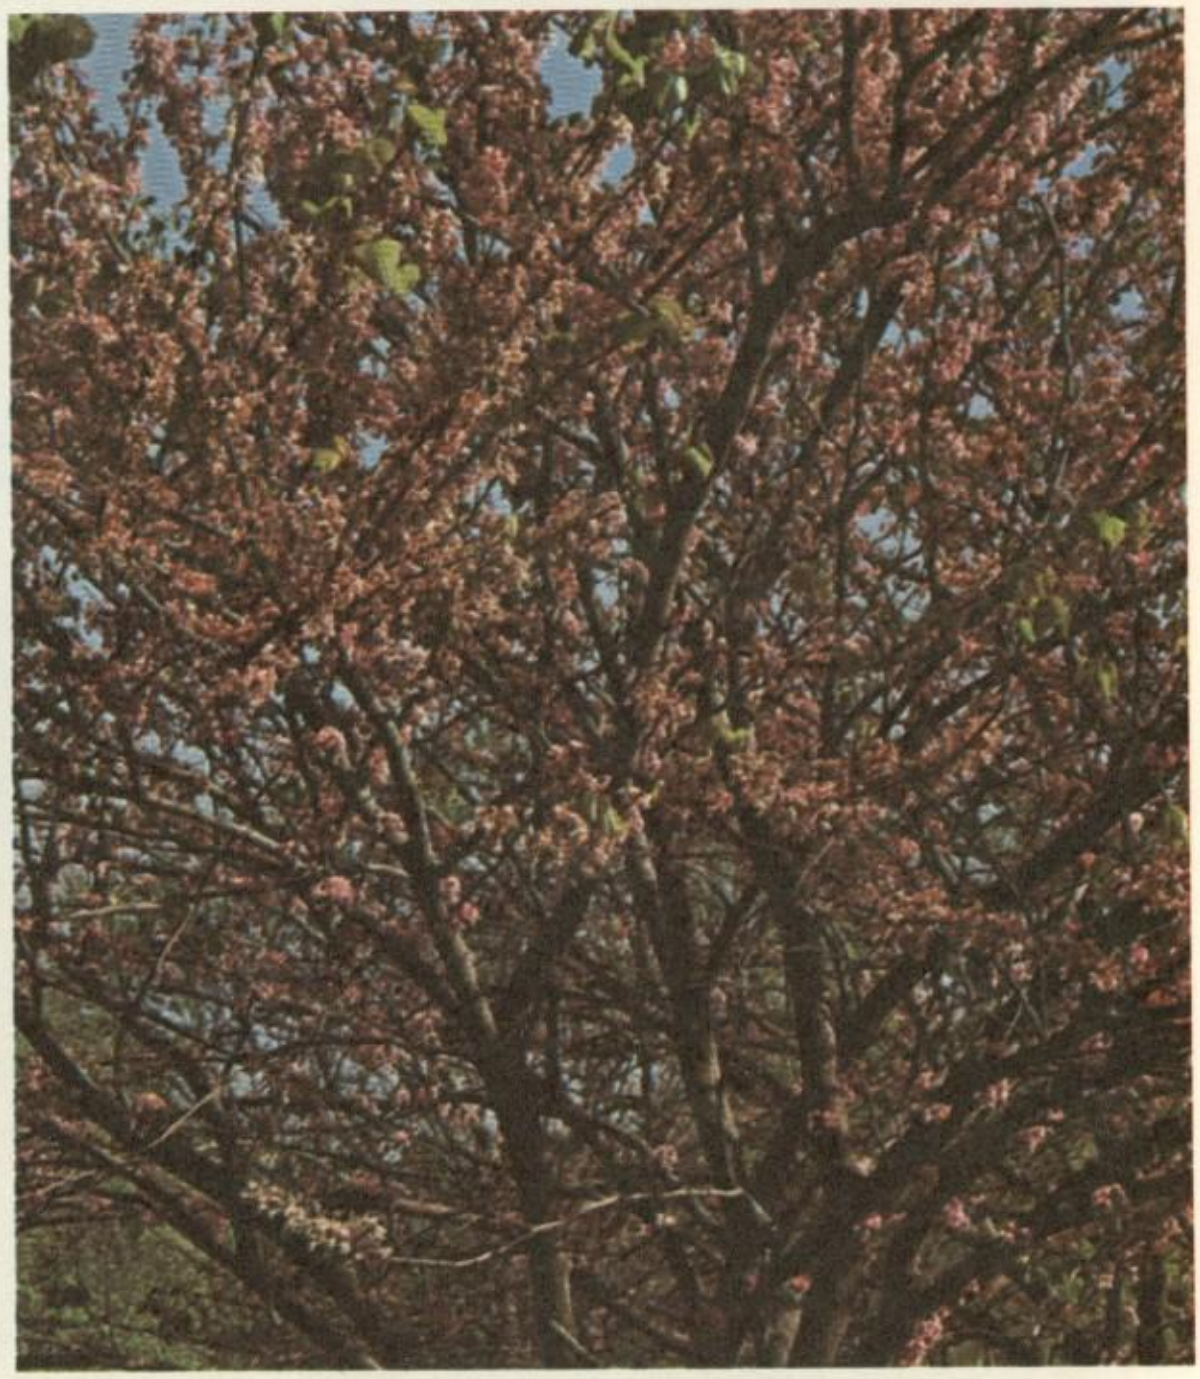
Gina Cassesi
"73"

Miss Fortmiller -
Thanks for all the understanding & knowledge with the love I have for you -

Daniel Lee '71

Miss Fortmiller,
It's been a wonderful year and thanks to you for giving an understanding teacher. May God Bless.






Jerry W. "71"
